Days

of

Future

Passed

*There was a child went forth every day,
And the first object he looked upon, that object he became.*

And that object became part of him for the day, or a certain part of the day, or for many years, or stretching cycles of years.

These became part of that child who went forth every day,

And who now goes, and will always go forth every day.

W. Whitman

Mr. Charles Varney, Class Advisor 1971 to 1974

DEDICATION

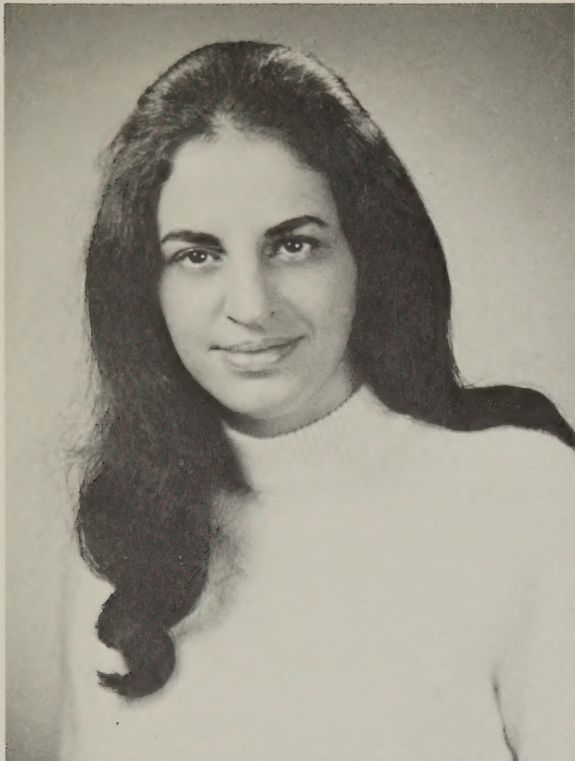

In the past three years, Mr. Varney has worked closely with the class officers in order to achieve a sense of unity within the class. By planning and participating with Mr. Varney in such activities as the Winter Carnival, the Junior Prom, the Senior Corn Roast, and Graduation activities, the class has attained that goal. Therefore, in appreciation of his tireless efforts and his endless vigor, we the Class of 1974, dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Charles Varney.

DEDICATION

I have but one lamp by which my feet are guided, and that is the lamp of experience. I know of no way of judging of the future but by the past.

Patrick Henry

Miss Kyriaki Goranites, Critic Yearbook Advisor.

Boys' and Girls' State

In the spring of 1973 these three Juniors were chosen, as were other selected Juniors throughout New Hampshire, to attend a program sponsored by various American Legion Auxiliaries. The main purpose of the week's stay at either Boys' State or Girls' State was to learn about the procedures of the government and the fundamentals of democracy.

D. Dore, L. Dexter, M. Beeman.

SITTING (L. to R.): J. Cockey, Mrs. Quimby, L. Dexter. STANDING: N. Andrews, I. Graham, B. MacKay. ABSENT: M. Gelinas.

St. Paul's

For those Juniors fortunate enough to be accepted, the St. Paul's six week Advanced Studies program proved to be an enriching learning experience.

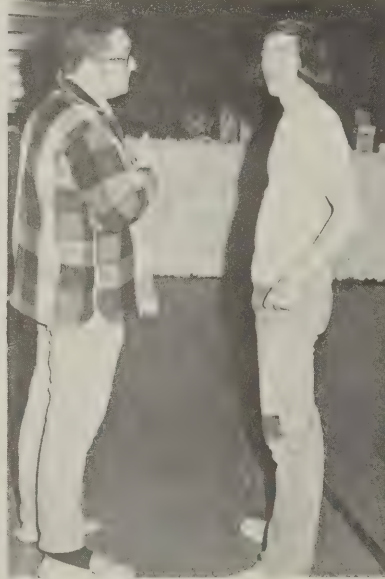

Junior Declamations

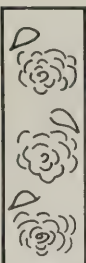

Junior Declamations is a contest open to any Junior wishing to express himself through a memorized piece. The students choose their own material and the finalists are selected by non-partisan judges.

The class of "74's" first place piece was the sermon "Sinners in the Eyes of an Angry God" presented by J. Cockey. Second place winner was M. Gelinas for his presentation of Poe's "Tell Tale Heart."

A promotion for Mr. Smith gave the Smith family the opportunity to move to New Orleans in Sally Benson's play "Meet Me in St. Louis." Through trolley derailing, comical songs, water bags, and leg biting, the Smith sisters attempted to change Mr. Dodge's mind of sending their father down South. Instead of changing the boss' mind, the boss fired Mr. Smith. All worked out happy in the end, and the family stayed in St. Louis.

A wedding is supposed to be a happy occasion, but the Senior Class production of Caroline Francke's "Father of the Bride" showed the trials and tribulations of planning a small wedding. Starting at 50 guests, the wedding grew to be over 300, so Mr. Banks called in his secretary to cut down the list; however, members of the family continued to add and to change the list which added to the confusion. Kay Banks and Buckley Dunstan finally made it through the trauma to arrive at their wedding day.

But sometimes you have to moan when nothing seems to suit you, but nevertheless you know you're locked towards the future. So on and on you go, the seconds tick the time out. There's so much left to know and I'm on the road to find out.

The 1974 Critic was the product of many hours of labor by a small group of dedicated Seniors. Working on one of the three Critic staffs, these students performed the various tasks required to publish 1974's "Days of Future Passed". The Literary Staff was responsible for selecting the theme and for illustrating it through appropriate photographs, captions, and summaries. Next, the Typing Staff prepared the written material for final copy. Finally, but very important, the Business Staff raised the necessary funds to pay for publication expenses. These three staffs, under the supervision of Miss Goranites and Miss Abbott, have made the 1974 Critic possible.

This year the National Honor Society had an active year. The fall convention was held in New Hampton, N.H. At the convention, the members learned about various occupations. The NHS is proud to have had David Dore as the State President, Nancy Andrews as Delegate-at-Large, and Miss Beane as State Advisor.

In October, the members went on a hay ride in Chester and then had a get-together at Mary Demers. At Christmas they made favors and caroled for Brentwood County Home.

The NHS was busy raising money for the annual scholarships awarded to deserving seniors at graduation.

The November meet of the Tri-State Math League marked the first time in our three years of participation that Pinkerton acted as host. Mathalon, the name given to our team, has grown not only in quantity but also in quality. For example, the team's high scorer, Rick Gregoire, is within striking distance of the male individual championship.

There was fierce competition in the computer room this year as students, and teachers alike, began exploiting the time saving features of our "Wang 500 Programable Calculator". Through the effort of the Computer advisors, who act as teachers and supervisors during their assigned periods, everyone seemed to get their fair share of time at the key board.

It says she's in love with your portible calculator!!!

SPQR

The Latin Club was again one of the most active clubs at Pinkerton Academy. The members held many meetings and attended many state meetings.

In November, they had a Latin Week. One day all the Latin students wore togas. A Roman Banquet was held in the cafeteria. Guests were served by slaves, and a play was presented.

At Christmas, they gave a food basket and had a Christmas party at Dee Hicks' home.

The club was busy with other clubs throughout the state planning for the National Junior Classical League Convention. The convention was held at the U.N.H. in August. It was the first for N.H. The post-convention tour throughout New England was highly pleasing for students traveling from as far away as Alaska.

This year a Foreign Language Club was formed for all those students interested in pursuing studies in foreign languages. At Thanksgiving, the members made a Thanksgiving basket; and at Christmas, they put up posters wishing us Merry Christmas in many languages. In April, they spent three exciting days in Quebec.

In the past year, the A. V. Association has evolved from almost a one-man team with the bare necessities for taping to a full fledged student run organization supplied with enough tapes, decks, monitors, cameras, and imagination to tape creatively as well as functionally. The advisor Mr. Barry secured for their use a large classroom and a small office both next to the library.

In addition to school activities they planned various field trips including trips to RKO General and Graham Junior College.

Tower

Ambitious members of "The Tower" created a newer and brighter image for the literary magazine with a flurry of brightly colored and appealing posters and deposit boxes. Together, Editor-in-Chief Bruce MacKay, his colleagues: Tracy, Karen, Kathy and Kim and advisor Mrs. Quimby stimulated an unusual and welcomed interest in writing.

F.T.A.

The Future Teachers of America were again busy training themselves for future positions in teaching professions. They taught at many elementary and junior high schools.

The FTA was responsible for setting up the Freshmen Assembly in the fall. By giving this assembly, the freshmen learned more about the many clubs and sports at Pinkerton Academy.

At Christmas, the members bought gifts for deserving children.

The FTA and the Junior Class sponsored the Winter Carnival, "On a Threshold of A Dream." The girls created various activities such as a Sadie Hawkins Dance and a movie.

THE PINKERTON

The Pinkerton music department was in full swing long before the school year began as the marching band began to practice for the oncoming football season. Throughout September, October and November, the marching band livened up the half-time shows, as the football team struggled for a playoff berth. Once the football season had come to a close, the concert band, jazz band and glee club were called to take over. They did so with grand honors, as they responded with sensational winter and spring concerts.

The 10-10 record compiled by this year's team was the best posted in some years. This was an experienced team having six Seniors including three returning starters. They got off to a bad start, but a mid-season surge where they won 7 of 9 games made them possible contenders for the post season tourney. Even though the team was unable to participate in the tourney, Mike Beeman and John Picc represented P.A. when they competed in the foul shooting contest. The top three scorers were Mike Beeman, Doug Ball, and Keith Whitten.

However, their winning streak was interrupted by vacation after which the girls started slowly minus that extra "something" which had previously made them click as a team. The season ended with a record of 8 wins and 6 losses.

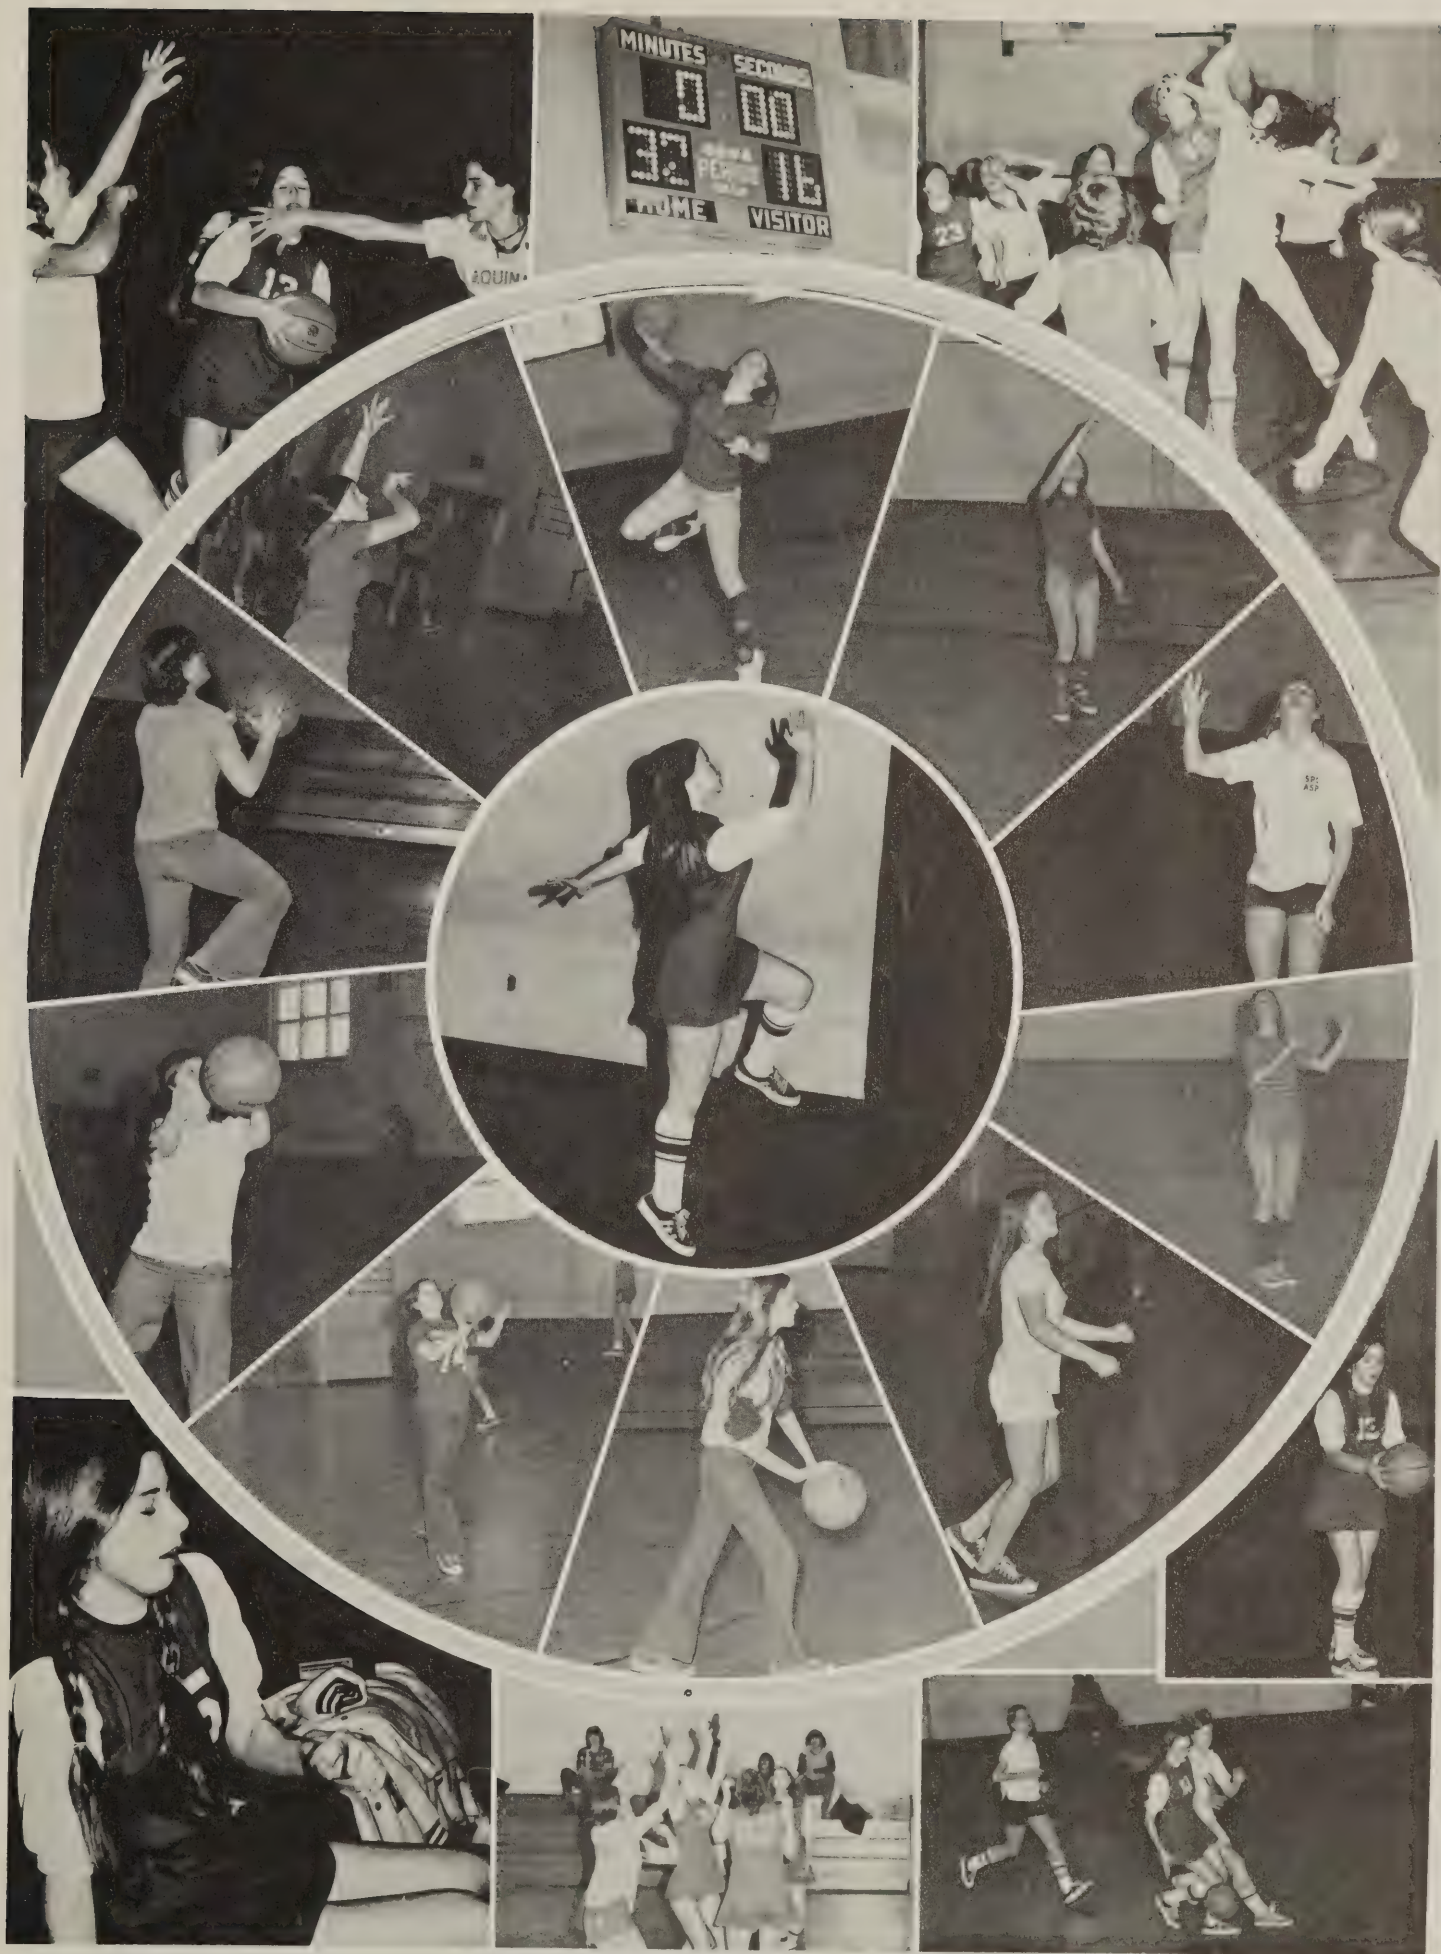

The Junior Varsity, coached by Miss Spinney, had a spectacular season with 13 wins and 1 loss.
